

BBC Radio Theatre

You've just found the ideal venue

Dazzling, unique and contemporary, the BBC Radio Theatre is a dramatic backdrop to any event. Located in BBC Broadcasting House, in the heart of the West End, this prestigious art deco theatre has hosted many of the country's best known radio shows. It is an imposing and versatile venue for conferences, product launches, award ceremonies and film and photographic shoots.

With BBC Radio Resources' reputation for vision, innovation and sheer professionalism, you've found the perfect partner too.

B B C Radio Resources

Technical excellence behind the scenes:

- Engineering and operations staff
- Technical rigging
- Stage lighting and specialist effect lighting
- Video and computer projection
- Conference PA sound
- Press & live broadcast sound
- Video cameras
- Audio & Video recording
- Two way audio & video outside contributions
- Satellite links
- Audio record your event

Our client list includes:

The Observer, Adobe, BA, KPMG, Energis, The Guardian, Ernst & Young, The British Council, MediaTel, Mitsubishi and many more.

Capacity:

- Stalls: 214
- Balcony: 96

TOTAL: 310

Standing capacity: 425, once the seating is removed

Support Rooms:

- Three dressing rooms
- A viewing gallery
- Two conference/audience holding rooms
- Rehearsal room (can be split into three smaller rooms)

Plus a bar/cafe which has an alcohol licence

How to find us:

The BBC Radio Theatre
Broadcasting House
Portland Place
London W1A 1AA

Contact us

For further information or to book the BBC Radio Theatre, please call: 0207 7655100 or email rr-events-team@bbc.co.uk

www.bbcradioresources.com